Waveland surf hole claims another life

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
City, county, state and federal officials offer no concrete plans to effectively prevent more drownings in Waveland's 'deep hole.'

The treacherous underwater mud-filled hole located some 1,500 feet offshore from Gulfside Assembly Center near Buccaneer State Park claimed what is believed to be its 25th victim Sunday afternoon.

A Slidell man drowned while saving two of his stepdaughters.

Robert (Bobby) Boudin, Hancock County Civil Defense director, Monday said city police used a bullhorn to try to call the trio back to shore, but they apparently didn't hear the call as they carelessly played in the shallow Mississippi Sound waters and dropped into the deadly cavity.

The director reported that police radioed a Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources boat to pick up the three, but as they watched from shore and the rescue boat sped from Pass Christian, Floyd Crawford, 29, became stuck knee-deep in the hole's muddy bottom and drowned.

Before Crawford died he managed to free two of his stepdaughters, Felicia Robins, 18, and Tonia Robins, 13, from the hole's deadly grip.

Boudin said Crawford reportedly threw one of the girls to safety and pushed another out as he became trapped underwater in the mud and salt water filled his lungs.

Carl Banderet, county coroner, Monday said Crawford was found at 7:15 a.m. that day standing straight up.

Lee Ferrell, retired Waveland Fire Department fire marshal and veteran deep hole body retriever, confirmed mud was found up to Crawford's knees and left forearm as he was pulled from about six feet of water in the hole.

The deep hole was apparently created by a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' dredging project in 1966 about one year after Hurricane Betsy. An approximate 200-foot wide sand berm was placed in front of the seawall from Ballantine Street in Bay St. Louis to Bayou Cadet to protect Beach Boulevard.

Boudin said prior to 1977 some 16 people lost their lives in the hole, but said he had no records of the deaths because no records are available from when the then Waveland Civil Defense office handled the incidents.

In 1977 the County Board of Supervisors banned all swimming in the area after a group of six people died in the deadly hole.

Almost two years ago a U.S. Corps of Engineers' Mobile District Office authorized the county to place eight pilings with warning signs around the approximate 500-foot by 800-foot deep hole in addition to existing warning signs on the beach.

Prior to that time the Corps and Boudin claimed the hole had been filled after the Army pumped silt spillover from the nearby Bayou Cadet channel into the underwater cavity.

A detailed Corps depth chart of the area was presented at a July, 1979 supervisors' meeting by Boudin after another Slidell man had drowned in the area one month earlier.

But a simple stick sounding by Supervisors Sam Pernicaro and Bert Courge, Waveland Mayor, John Longo, The Sea Coast Echo Publisher Ellis Cuevas and Ferrell revealed a drop-off from an average depth of six to seven-foot hole with a soupy mud bottom ranging from one foot to 25 feet deep.

Later that month Boudin and the Corps admitted the hole still existed.

With this week's death, all county and city officials charge the Corps with the responsibility of filling Waveland's deadly underwater trap.

They also believe almost everything has been undertaken locally to warn people to stay out of the deep hole area and cite that the deaths result from flagrant disregard of warning signs posted around the area.

When asked if a lack of action to fill the hole is due to the fact that mostly blacks have drowned in this area, all local officials deny that fact has any bearing on their efforts.

F. L. Currie, executive assistant to the Corps district engineer, Wednesday in Mobile said his office 'is looking into it' and has received inquiries, but would not comment further because the U.S. Government is the defendant in seven $1 million lawsuits resulting from deep hole drownings scheduled for trial beginning June 22 in a Biloxi federal court.

Bennett bests Buccola

By BRENT MACEY

Incumbent Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett Tuesday defeated his Republican rival Joseph Buccola handily in the city's mayoral election.

A complete, but unofficial count Tuesday night showed Bennett receiving 1,392 votes to Buccola's 486.

Bennett had defeated his Democratic rival Victor Frankiewicz by a narrow 29-vote margin in the Democratic primary election in May to place him in Tuesday's general election.

Buccola, who was in Bay St. Louis City Hall until three of the four ward's races had been counted, let early election results show he was lacking some 579 votes with only Ward Three votes remaining to be counted.

Buccola was out of town on business Wednesday and could not be reached for comment.

A tired, happy Bennett stated Wednesday, "In my four and one half years I have gone through six Democratic primaries and two general elections. The people have never let me down before and I did not think they would this time. I have enjoyed working for the people and I will continue to do so in the future."

In individual Ward ballot counts, Bennett received 263 votes in Ward One to 189 votes in that ward for Buccola. Bennett received 373 votes in both Wards Two and Three as opposed to Buccola who received 119 votes in Ward

Two and 46 votes in Ward Three. In Ward Four Bennett totalled 383 votes to Buccola's 132.

In a Ward Three councilmanic election, incumbent Democratic candidate Harry Farve retained his seat against opposition from two independent party candidates.

The final count in that race showed Farve with 254 votes to 140 votes for Herta M. Smith and 27 votes for Thomas P. Clarke.

Farve said later, "I think the people

Who will be hole's victim Number 26?

An appallingly callous attitude apparently prevails among most local officials regarding that quicksand-filled hole in the Waveland surf which has claimed 25 lives over a short several years.

That's almost as many people as have died in the Atlanta youth murders.

We are sorry to report this newspaper's inquiry into the death of the latest victim of the hole Sunday and a subsequent search for some official concern about preventing the presently inevitable 26th drowning at that spot revealed the official nonconcern is based in the fact most victims of the hole have been black and most have been visitors to Hancock County.

This sickening racist attitude was most singularly revealed at Monday's Hancock County Board of Supervisors meeting when one county official stated most hole victims are black because the hole is shaped like a watermelon.

Apathy to the situation is also based in a belief on the part of local officials that all remedies have been exhausted.

But there is a counter-belief held by the management and staff of The Sea Coast Echo that the citizenry of Hancock County is made of sterner stuff than some of the county officials.

We don't believe Hancock County residents will complacently sit on their hands awaiting drowning number 26 in the Waveland hole.

Money can no longer be used as an excuse for no solution in the face of continuing, certain loss of human life just three football field lengths off the Waveland beach, regardless of the jurisdiction in which that death trap lies.

Officials claim beach users tear down flimsy wooden warning signs to make bon fires.

Then why not erect steel signs on steel posts set in concrete?

How much is victim number 26 worth? Whose child or grandchild, sister or brother, father or mother, will number 26 be?

Victim number 24 was a 22-year-old white man from Slidell.

Why not erect a Hurricane-type fence around the hole?

Why not fill the hole with barge-load after barge-load of shells until the hole becomes an island, a thing of beauty which would shortly settle into being the best fishing spot on the Coast?

Let's stop this carnage in our biggest playground. No effort is too costly at this point.

The Sea Coast Echo urges Hancock residents to express their feelings on this issue by calling or writing their elected and appointed city, county, state and federal officials urging immediate solution to the Waveland hole problem.

The only thing black about that 'hole' is the black eye it is giving this entire community.

This newspaper was instrumental in proving continued existence of the hole in 1979 when the U.S. Corp of Engineers was insisting the hole had gone away.

A reprint of our editorial on the matter at that time appears on today's Editorial Page.

However he did state, "We are trying to determine what the facts are and what the situation is."

A.A. (Dolph) Kellar Monday would not comment extensively regarding the Waveland hole because the county has been named a third party defendant in the lawsuits.

But Kellar said the county has marked the area, people "don't pay attention" to the signs, has attempted to have the hole filled and race is not an issue regarding local efforts.

Bert Courge, District One (where the hole is located) supervisor, Monday also limited his comments, but said the Corps should fill the hole with sand because "it's not in our jurisdiction" and echoed Kellar's comments.

Ronald A. Peterson, county sheriff, Monday offered the same comments as Kellar and Courge, but added, "Although signs are there somebody else is going to drown and it's unfortunate."

"Something needs to be done as soon as possible. Another person doesn't need to drown," the sheriff added.

Longo Wednesday said he would write the Corps about the hole and speculated the city might pass an ordinance asking "groups" using the beach to assume responsibility for their own safety.

"We have groups that invite hundreds of people into the city to the beach, but don't take any safety precautions," he reported.

"The city should pass some sort of ordinance requiring every group to furnish its own lifeguards, take safety precautions and rope off a swimming area," Longo explained.

"We can't assume the responsibility for every group that comes to town. I don't care whether it's a white or black group or what," he added.

Longo also suggested that Buccaneer Park provide its own lifeguards for groups which utilize the facility and nearby beaches.

"We will take every action to notify the people, but the county should notify the Corps to fill the hole in. It's not really Waveland's responsibility," he stated.

The mayor reported Waveland could not afford to pay lifeguards to watch its beachfront waters.

Longo denied any racial issue affecting the city's actions and said, "Legally under the law we can't spend Waveland dollars on something the city doesn't own."

"The point past where the tide rises and falls belongs to the federal government," Longo stated.

Donald Dorn, Waveland police chief, Tuesday said, "You could put up a 20-foot fence out there and people would still try to get to that hole."

"What more can we do, but put up signs and our officers always try to keep people out of there," Dorn reported.

Martin Smith of Poplarville, Hancock County's state senator, Tuesday said he would speak with Charles Blalock, State Department of Natural Resources director and also Gov. William Winter regarding the dangerous Waveland hole.

He noted local officials have never contacted his office regarding the situation.

J.P. Compretta, the county's state representative, was unavailable for comment this week.

Editorial

There's no question about a hole!

A personal inspection along with concerned elected officials Tuesday leads us to the certain conclusion 'the hole' in the surf at Gulfside Assembly in Waveland definitely is not filled as reported to the Board of Supervisors on July 2.

Now, we know you have read news stories saying 'the hole' was filled and even an editorial in another Coast newspaper stating it was, but we have to disagree.

Sometimes you just have to check things out for yourself to really know.

We think the biggest problem is the silt in the bottom of 'the hole'. During the on-site investigation, we used a measuring device 11 feet long.

One time we were able to register almost five feet of silt on the board, as it was as far down as could be reached with hand under water. The board seemed to want to continue but arms weren't long enough.

Just how deep the silt is still remains a mystery to us. There must be a permanent way to fill 'the hole' or whatever you want to call it.

The sand is hard and firm around the outsides of the area and seems to be soft inside most of the hole area where the water is up to five feet deeper than on the outer edges.

Now we don't know whether or not you would call it a hole, but in our terms of explanation we call it a hole.

Our feelings are that peoples' lives are in danger.

Even though the area is a very long way from the beach road, the persons who drowned in the area managed to get that far out.

As kids, we swam off the Waveland Beach, even had a platform on the edge of the channel for jumping off.

The channel had a gentle gradient and the hard sand turned to silt about six or eight inches deep. Now we haven't swam there in many years, but know these weren't the same conditions which are in 'the hole'.

Far to many people have drowned in this one area. We realize that there seems to be a heavy use of the Beach in the immediate area, but people swim every weekend and in large numbers all along the Beach, and that one spot seems to be the big problem.

We hope someone will eliminate this death trap on our beach.

Safe Boating Week is June 7-13

This year's observance of National Safe Boating Week June 7-13 will feature courtesy marine examinations by the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 35 each day at the small craft harbors in Gulfport, Long Beach and Pass Christian and the Bayview Marina on Henderson Point.

In addition to the free vessel examinations, each location will include a safe boating booth where you can secure literature on safe boating equipment, new federal laws and the answers to any questions you might have.

There will also be on display an auxiliary patrol, search and rescue vessel, at each location, open for inspection.

Area boaters should take advantage of these free safety inspections and acquaint themselves with the special legal requirements which apply to vessels to 65 feet in length.

Dear Friends and Members:

The Hancock County Blood Bank will have its next blood drawing on Wednesday, June 10, at 10:00 a.m. at the American Legion Home.

As is usually the case at each drawing time, and more particularly this one since the previous drawing was off, our blood supply is critically low.

We know you fully understand the importance to the life and health of our community to have blood available at all times, and we need your help.

Importance of tourism to be stressed during 'Hospitality Day'

June 1, 1981
Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Tourism is Mississippi's third largest industry. It's a billion dollar industry supplying jobs for around 85,000 Mississippians. A key element in this vital industry is Mississippi's famous hospitality.

To emphasize the importance of hospitality, Governor William Winter has designated June as Hospitality Month and June 6, Hospitality Day. Through this program the Division of Tourism hopes to make Mississippians more aware of how their attitude to visitors affects tourism. And, of course, we want tourists to know that we appreciate their business and to spread the word about Mississippi.

Many communities around the state are planning special events for June 6, Hospitality Day, and throughout the month. We encourage you to support your community efforts. The theme for this year is "Hospitality - It's Yours in Mississippi."

Hospitality does generate a great deal of goodwill. With your help, we hope the special emphasis placed on hospitality during June will carry over throughout the year.

Sincerely,

Fiftieth class reunion stirs nostalgia in Pass High graduate

Memories of the Pass High Class of 1931 June 1, 1981

The Editor
With enthusiasm I read a letter to The Daily Herald Editor by Preston Walker.

Congratulations to Preston for 4 years of memories of yesterday. Mr. Walker probably holds the record or near record for the old age of high school graduation.

My age of 10 years and 8 months is also old, especially to the average age of graduation today. I too was the oldest in my class. A feeling of embarrassment to years ago, but an honor and God given privilege today.

In further comparing my early life with Mr. Walker's, I was surprised to find that we had many similar experiences, particularly in my case only nurtured in a ward.

I will never forget the first time I was to answer a telephone. Believe it or not, today 40 years later

Many of our residents are now harvesting fresh vegetables such as beans, tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, new potatoes and sweet peppers from their garden.

Some back breaking work in early Spring is really paying off for most of the lucky gardeners.

Now the reason we are saying the hard work is paying off is some is because we know one person who did a lot of work and nothing but exercise.

One of our friends planted a very long row of Irish potatoes on some property he owns in the buffer zone.

When he felt it was time to harvest his potatoes, someone else had already done the job for him. The only problem, the potatoes did not leave the planter any for his hours of work and care.

It is a shame for someone to be so low as to steal from a person's garden.

There are a lot of things happening this weekend in the county.

Saturday the second annual Beachfront Festival will get underway at 1 p.m. on Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis. In conjunction with the Beachfront Festival, the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club will have its second bike-a-thon starting at 11 a.m. from Main and Beach Boulevard to Buccaneer State Park.

Also at 1 p.m. Saturday, Our Hospitality Station on I-10 and Hwy. 607 will have a cake and refreshments celebrating Hospitality Day.

So as you can see, Saturday will be a busy day for many people.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I still don't know whether I was being talked to or about.

Today my 3 year old great-grandchildren talk to me over the phone.

Let's see Minnie Pearl and Bob Hope top this one.

I can remember the first time I went to town - Pass Christian - a time when the city was still sporting its oyster shell streets.

No, I wasn't sitting on a leatherized seat in a shiny auto. Instead I was sitting on the weatherized floor boards of a horse drawn wagon.

As we rode along I noticed the red and white post in front of the barber shop. I said, "Hey daddy, look, they are growing peppermint candy, can I plant some when we get home."

Sorta dumb wasn't it? But even then I knew all my multiplication tables.

Today I see young graduates using their fingers to find 7 x 12 or 12 x 7.

For different reasons I failed to attend a class reunion by my Alma Mater - Pass Christian High School down through 49 years.

Finally this year - the 50th one I made it.

The motto of Preston's class - Culture is Service - is beautiful, but both seem to be short changed today.

I think that when the Pass High class motto of 1931 was put together - also a fantasy today - my life was portrayed as the pattern, because it all seems to have been based on that motto.

I enjoyed every moment of my stay at our reunion on April 23 but was disappointed with our class attendance.

Believe it or not the "Old man" of the class, the only male survivor - the other two are deceased - me - and the BABY GIRL of the class - who was in sweet 16 years ago - we called her SWISSY - were the only two out of eleven in attendance.

Yes Mildred - Mrs. Earl Raymond is just as sweet and loved today as then.

I intend to make this event a priority in the future and I am sure Mildred joins me in hoping to see all the 1931 survivors in 1982, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, and years beyond.

Good luck to all past and future graduates.

Right?

Thanks

Reader blasts railroad whistle blowing, lack of signals

Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

I wish to applaud the L&N Railroad for installing their silent rails.

However, a child living in Waveland could have told them that even rubber wheels could not make that railroad more neighborly.

The L&N trains start blowing their whistles at one end of Waveland and don't stop blowing until they reach the other end of town.

Now if they really wanted to be neighborly they could install signals at all of the grade crossings. That probably would have been cheaper than all of that silent track they laid.

It is surprising that smaller communities, such as Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor have signals at their grade crossings.

It would seem that traffic across Waveland's grade crossings would warrant signals more than the crossings at Clermont Harbor.

Least wise, had they asked, which they didn't, I am sure that anyone living within a quarter of a mile of the L&N right-of-way could have told them, "We never could hear the sound of the track for all that whistle blowing."

Yours truly,

Chamber reminds city law requires peddler registration

June 2, 1981
Editor

Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

Summer and early fall are the times of the year when most businesses are deluged with requests from various companies, organizations and schools for advertising in their periodicals, school annuals and other publications.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce would like to remind local businessmen that the City of Bay St. Louis has an ordinance which states that any person soliciting in the city is required to register with the Chamber office.

We do not want anyone to be confused. The Chamber's official map is presently at the printer. No proper been requested for the payment of advertisements in the map. Advertisements will be billed when the map is delivered.

The Chamber would like to see a business solicitor who has advanced the business of the Chamber by placing his name in the Chamber's official map.

Most business organizations solicit for their products and services in the Chamber's official map. If you are not in the map, you are not in the Chamber's official map.

If you are not in the map, you are not in the Chamber's official map. If you are not in the map, you are not in the Chamber's official map.

Yours truly,

Bay council eyes water tower lease

By BRENT MACEY
The Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday heard a report from Joseph Gex, council attorney, concerning a proposed contract from Electrocom Inc. which would allow the firm to lease space on top of a water tank in Bay St. Louis for installation of an antenna.

The council moved to have Gex work out a "more favorable contract" for the city.

The company wants to lease the water tank space at a rate of $40 a month.

Gex said the current contract "is a good agreement for Electrocom."

He said the company would be able to cancel the contract any time they wanted but the city would have to abide by the contract for 10 years unless Electrocom agreed to remove the antenna.

Gex said he believed the company wanted the antenna for two-way radio communications.

In other business the council requested James Chiniche, a local engineer, to submit a fee for services required to survey a water system currently servicing Hancock Heights.

The system is owned by Seashore Utilities Company and the company wishes to sell the system to the city for some $30,000.

Councilman Fred Wagner said the council wants to determine the value of the system and the system's length of life.

"The survey will serve as a basis on which we can make a valid offer to pay for the system," he said.

Also during the meeting in city hall the council approved the recommendation of the city's Insurance Commission to appoint Ames Kergosien to replace Dick Kosbab as the Agent of Record.

Kosbab served the city for over one year.

Board members commended Kosbab for his work.

The council also accepted the May claims docket during their regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday.

clearly knew their candidate, the issues and my accomplishments since being in office. I want to compliment my opponents for running a good, clean race and I also thank the people for their show of support and coming out to vote."

Smith, after all votes had been totaled, said with a smile, "This has been one of the most rewarding experiences and it is not the last time. I hope Mr. Farve accepts all our support and advice. I want to thank all my supporters, friends and family for their support in the election."

Four other city council candidates ran unopposed in Tuesday's election after winning in Democratic primary and runoff elections last month.

They are Wilmer Seymour, councilman-at-large; Gary Eugene Taylor, Ward One; James C. Thriffley III, Ward Two; and Sheldon M. Seuzeneau, Ward Four.

ETV Brief

DELTA BLUES

The music and musicians from the Mississippi Delta are spotlighted on the second program in "Southbound," a new series documenting the unique musical culture of the South. It can be seen at 9:30 p.m., Friday, June 5, on the Mississippi ETV Network. The second program is divided into two segments. The first, "Gravel Springs Fire and Drum," focuses on a day in the life of Other Turner, who plays an unusual type of fire and drum music that goes to the very roots of Afro-American folk music and in fact resembles traditional west African music. The second part of the program, "Give My Poor Heart Ease," showcases blues singer and guitarists. It is a personal account of the blues experience through recollections and performances by blues star B.B. King, by inmates from Mississippi's state penitentiary at Parchman, by musicians in a Leland juke joint, by a barber from Clarksdale who entertains his customers and by a salesman in a Beale Street clothing store.

BEAR SERIES

"Paddington Bear," a television series of six half-hour programs based on chapters from the popular "Paddington Bear" books, can be seen on the Mississippi ETV Network at 1:30 p.m., Saturdays, beginning June 6. It also can be seen at 1 p.m., Wednesdays. The programs were first seen on ETV during the spring and will resume with program number one. The films, featuring an innovative combination of two- and three-dimensional color animation, dramatize Paddington's transition into the world of human beings. Paddington's background is somewhat unusual. He is adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Brown when they find him sitting on his suitcase at Paddington Station and wearing a duffle coat, an oddly shaped hat and a sign around his neck reading, "Please look after this bear. Thank you."

OBITUARY

In Memory - of Someone Else!

We were saddened to learn this week of the death of one of the Chamber's most valuable members, Someone Else. Someone's passing created a vacancy that will be difficult to fill. Else has been with us for many years. Someone did far more than a normal person's share of work. Whenever leadership was mentioned, this wonderful person was looked to for inspiration as well as results. "Someone Else can work with that group." Whenever there was a job to do, a committee to chair, or meeting to attend, one name was on everyone's list—"Let Someone Else do it."

Someone Else was a wonderful person—sometimes appearing superhuman, but a person can do only so much. Were the truth known, everyone expected too much of Someone Else. Now Someone Else is gone! We wonder what we are going to do. Someone Else left a wonderful example to follow, but who is going to follow it? Who is going to do the things Someone Else did?

When you have a chance to participate in your Chamber of Commerce, remember—we can't depend on Someone Else any more!

Hospitality Day celebrations planned at Hancock facility

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Hospitality Day will be celebrated at Hancock County's Hospitality Station on 1-10 with numerous special events for the day, according to Lillian Dillard, manager.

Festivities will begin at the 8 a.m. opening of the Hospitality Station, according to Mrs. Dillard, highlighted by a 1 p.m. cutting of a large cake.

The month of June has been designated as Hospitality Month by Governor William Winter with June 6 being designated as Hospitality Day.

Sponsored by the Division of Tourism, Mississippi Department of Economic Development, the Hospitality Month program reminds Mississippians to make an extra effort in extending a generous and cordial reception to visitors.

George Williams, director, Division of Tourism said, "The innate ability we have to make visitors feel welcome is one of the reasons tourism is a billion dollar industry in the state. About 65,000 jobs in Mississippi are a result of the tourism industry."

Mrs. Dillard offered an invitation to everyone by saying, "I extend a special invitation to all the elected officials along the Coast and also all the residents to come and visit with us on Saturday."

"The main function of our hospitality stations is to offer a welcome to tourists, but local residents are always welcome to stop in and chat with us.

On Saturday we will be directing the tourists to the Bay St. Louis Downtown Beachfront Festival and also to Biloxi's Blessing of the Fleet over the weekend," Ms. Dillard added.

The Hospitality Station is now open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily. Coffee, cakes, tab, and orange drinks are offered free at the station, according to the manager.

Ms. Dillard has a staff of four full-time and three part-timers for the summer.

On Saturday a special feature will be a demonstration on how to make animals' out of sea shells by Jeannie Garcia of Jeannie's Gift Shop.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Center members will help in the serving of cake and will also be giving some flowers away to visitors.

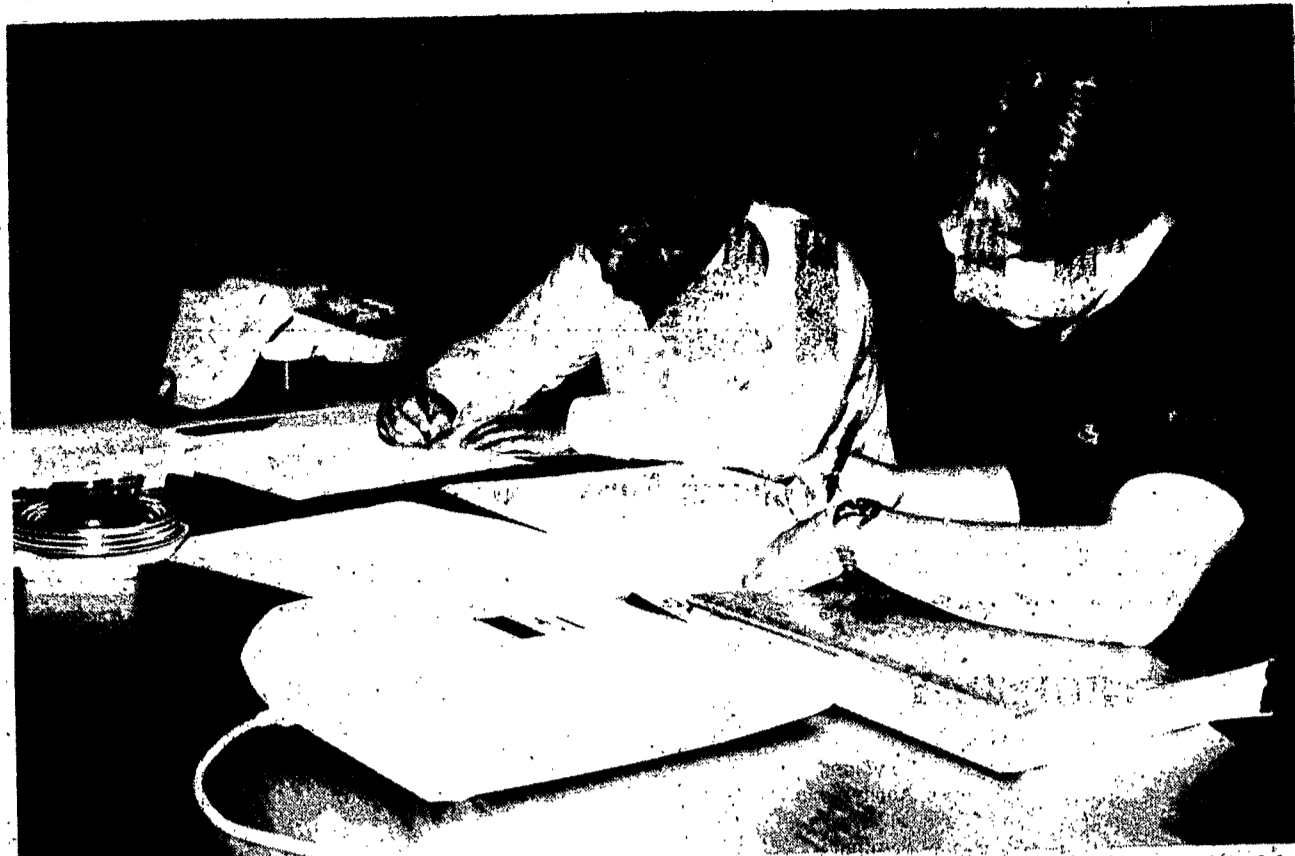

Mrs. Dillard says she also has some transfers with Mississippi for tee shirts which will be given away in addition to some recipes for rice and seafoods.

Hancock County Homemakers will be distributing chocolate milk under the direction of Darlene Underwood, home economist.

Ladies will wear antebellum dresses Saturday for the special Hospitality Day.

The Hancock County Welcome Center was officially opened in 1980 and the grounds landscaping is almost complete, according to the manager.

During May 1981, 15,156 visitors signed the register at the Hancock Facility compared to 12,292 in 1980, according to Mrs. Dillard.

STATE AUDITORS—Michael Sumner, left, and George Triggs from the State Audit Department examine the 1980-81 accounts of the Hancock County School District at the district's office on Court Street in Bay St. Louis recently. The team is expected to be in that office for two more weeks in order to complete the routine examination. A meeting will be scheduled with the school board after the audit is finished, Sumner said. He stated the audit results will be sent to Jackson for review and a final report will be mailed back to the superintendent in approximately four months. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

Port body to pay final Bayou Cadet study bill

By BRENT MACEY

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday shifted a $3,390 payment to the county Port and Harbor Commission when it was discovered that a payment made last year to the Bureau of Marine Resources in Long Beach for a study of Bayou Cadet was not sufficient to cover the county's share of the study.

The bureau administered federal funds for the study to the county which was required to pay 20 percent matching funds for the cost.

The board paid some $7,000 to the bureau last year as part of 20 percent matching funds required of the county for the $39,000 study undertaken by Burke and Associates of New Orleans. At that time the supervisors considered their obligations to the study fulfilled also realizing no money was available to implement that study.

After receiving the inch thick study last December the supervisors gave the study to the port body with the stipulation that the commission "keep its eyes open for any possible funding which might become available to implement the study in the future."

The bureau Monday informed the board that an additional $3,390 payment was still required to wipe the slate clean concerning the study.

The additional cost brings the county's payment share of the study cost to $13,786.

Jim Pfeiffer, board secretary, said federal auditors would not accept $3,390 which the county had claimed as their share of "in-kind" services for the study.

He stated the bureau had accepted those services as part of the 20 percent matching funds.

He said "millions of dollars" had been allocated by the federal government in the past for studies of different areas in the state.

The county was involved in three different studies with Burke and Associates during that time several years ago. One study focused on the Texas Flat Road area and was called "The Waveland Gas Field Study," another involved a study at Stennis International Airport and the third was the Bayou Cadet Study.

"If we could have used that money for something other than a study, we could have built a harbor at Bayou Cadet and paved all of Texas Flat Road," Pfeiffer said.

In other business the supervisors accepted a resolution from the County School district for a two mill tax needed by the district to obtain $250,000.

The resolution states the money will be used to build 16 additional classrooms; 10 at Hancock North Central, four at Gulfview elementary and two at Charles B. Murphy elementary.

Board members stated they would not be able to act on the resolution until their first meeting slated July 15.

Also during the 9 a.m. meeting at the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, the board:

—Declared a water hole, located in Waveland and responsible for the drowning death of 25 people, "is not under the jurisdiction of the board. The hole is in navigable waters under the jurisdiction of the US Army Corps of Engineers. We have done everything we possibly can which is under our jurisdiction," Walter Gex, board attorney said.

Board members stated they have posted signs in the area and also marked the hole with pillars.

—Heard a question from attorney Nicholas Haas whether the county would accept exempting the country club at Diamondhead from being taxed, since the club is 'nonprofit' and used by the community.

Board Attorney Gex said he thought action from the board in favor of that request "might open up a Pandora's box... You could be talking about five or eight million dollars of taxable property being taken off the rolls... I'm not sure it can legally be done," he said. The board requested Gex to study the matter.

—Moved to transfer $5,000 from the planning fund to the help pay the cost of services for Gulf Regional Planning Commission. Nicholas Haas, attorney for the commission, stated $28,000 will be needed to pay Gulf Regional Planning and only $23,000 has been set aside for that purpose.

Gun used same day

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A gun purchased Tuesday morning from Lee's Pawn Shop in Bay St. Louis was apparently used in a Waveland shooting Tuesday night, according to police officers.

Donald Dorn, Waveland chief of police, said Wednesday his office received a call at 8:04 p.m. Tuesday reporting a shooting at 319 Jeff Davis, residence of Hester Ladner.

Dorn said, "Police Officer Claude Yarbrough, upon reaching the scene, found Carl Thibaux apparently had been shot by a .22 cal. revolver. Both men had appeared to have had been drinking."

Thibaux was rushed to Hancock General by Mobile Medic and underwent surgery.

He was reported as being in serious condition by a HGH spokesman Wednesday in the Intensive Care Unit.

Dorn said as far as he knew Thibaux and Ladner had lived in the same house.

Ladner had obtained a permit for the gun from the Hancock County Sheriff's Department the same day he purchased the weapon, according to Investigator Alvin Ladner.

Waveland Investigator Robert Tartavouille said a bullet from the 'Saturday night special' entered through Thibaux's side.

Ladner has been charged with aggravated assault with intent to do bodily harm and was placed under a $5,000 bond Wednesday morning.

Officers at the scene were Dorn, Tartavouille, Waveland Investigator Sandra Henley, Yarbrough, Asst. Chief Bubba Hughes, John Wilkerson and Hancock Investigator Alvin Ladner.

In other police activities, two persons were arrested and an outdoor motor and television set recovered.

Investigator Ladner reports that Jack Berry, 18, Rt. 1, Box 21, Bay St. Louis has been arrested and charged with two counts of alleged burglary and one count of having stolen property."

Ladner said his questioning of Berry, aided by Waveland's investigators led to the recovery of an 18 hp outboard motor and television set from the residence of Donald McKee, Rt. 1, Box 827, Bay St. Louis.

McKee is charged with receiving stolen property and possession of a small amount of marijuana. Ladner said the television set was reportedly stolen from the Bayou Caddy Fisheries and the motor from a Bayou LaCrosse Road residence.

"More arrests may still be made as we are still looking into other persons possibly involved in these thefts, Ladner added.

Ladner also reports the arrest of Eric Moran, 24, Rt. 2, Box 898, Bay St. Louis on a warrant issued by the Warren County sheriff's office Tuesday.

Assisting in the arrest were Waveland's Investigators Tartavouille and Henley.

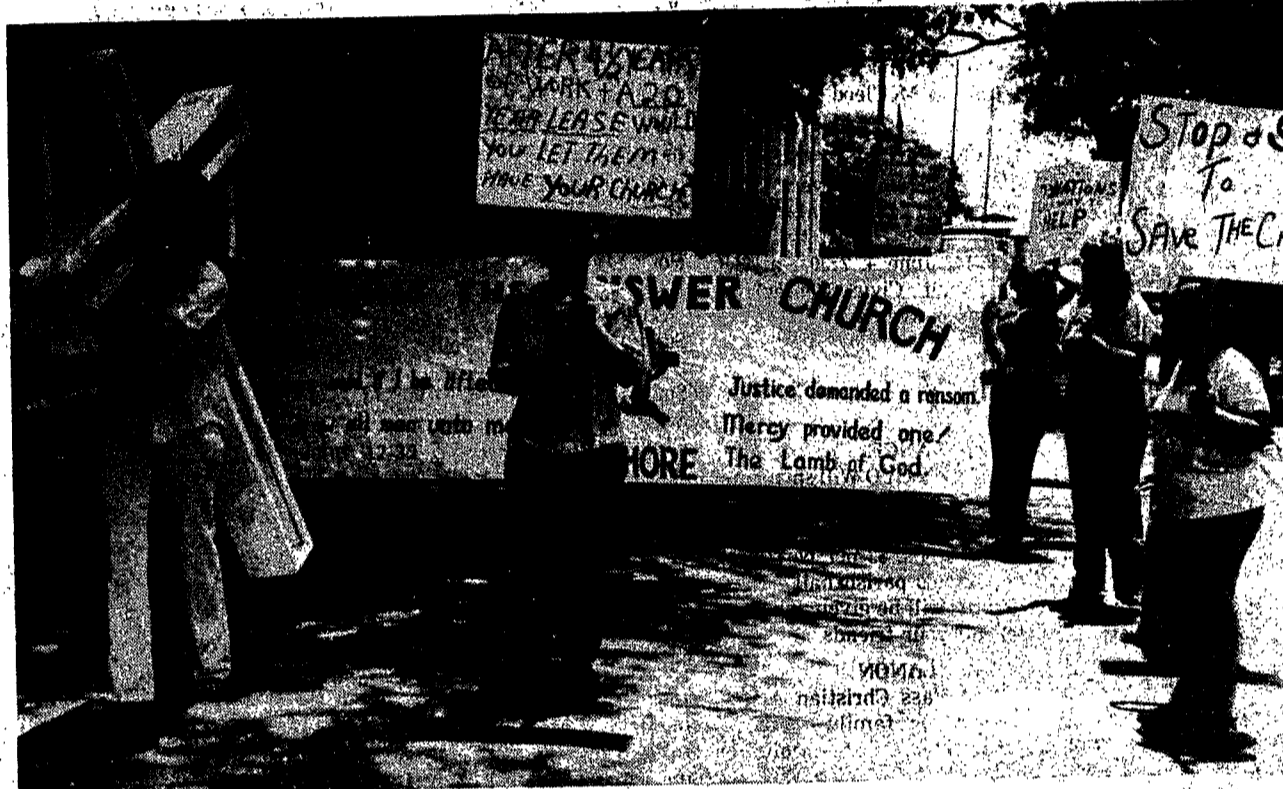

Moran was wanted for fraud, according to the bulletin issued by the Warren County police.

An apparent armed robbery reported at 11 a.m. Wednesday turned out to probably be a hoax, according to Ladner.

Ladner indicated, "We received a call from Mr. Samuel Elders, 7445 Cotton Drive, Fort Worth, Texas who said he picked up two hitchhikers in Mobile. They allegedly stopped near the Diamondhead interchange on I-10 and pulled a gun on him. The man said he was going to Bay St. Louis to visit his step-sister."

"He gave us a telephone number and we called the lady. She told us that she had given the man a ride yesterday to I-10 and he had told her the same story had happened to him the day before," Ladner added.

Ladner said the man apparently had been drinking.

PROTEST MARCH—Members of Jesus is the Answer Full Gospel Church in Lakeshore recently gathered for a protest march through the streets of Bay St. Louis. The group is protesting attempts by the United Methodist Church to reclaim a church in Lakeshore which the Methodists leased to the Gospel Church for several years. Gospel members say they renovated the church after the church was damaged by Hurricane Camille and spent 'thousands of dollars' in the process. They claim a member of the United Methodist Church also gave them a lease to the building for another 20 years. Methodist Church members say the 20 year lease is not valid and want the church back July 2 to reopen a branch of the Methodist Church in Lakeshore. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

Playing host for the first time in several years to a Degree Initiation ceremony at the council hall Sunday, Pere Le Duc Council welcomed 15 new Knights of its own from among more than 30 candidates from several area councils who received First, Second, and Third Degrees of Knighthood.

The ceremony, was highlighted by a parade of both candidates and Knights escorted by Fourth Degree members and a special Mass and Communion, where several Knights served as commentators, acolytes, and extraordinary ministers.

Bay St. Louis council members initiated Sunday include Robert Boudin, Larry Burns, Reginald Fayard, Michael Gemelli, Joseph Gex, Walter Gex, Stanley Hametta, Alvin Kingston Jr., LeRoy Perrone Jr., Thomas O'Brien, Ronald Peterson, Joe Rosetti, Charles Piazza, Joseph Monti, and Gerald G. Winchester.

Welcome to Pere Le Duc Council from all your Brother Knights.

An unexpected highlight of the day occurred when State Deputy Rodney Sandoz awarded Grand Knight Bob Hubbard a special commendation from the Supreme Director of the Knights of Columbus recognizing Hubbard's outstanding work in the reorganization and revitalizing of the Council.

We express our most sincere congratulations to our Grand Knight for this deserving honor.

Hubbard expressed their gratitude of the council to the members of the degree team, and the Fourth Degree escort who participated in Sunday's activities.

Ed and Lois Friloux decorated the upper chamber.

Our Lady of the Gulf Choir, under direction of Mrs. Ollie McKenna and featuring Brother Ted Morel, sang, "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary serving the initiates a Continental breakfast were Trudy Geles, Claire Clements, Melanie Aupier, Mary Alice Monti, Lois Friloux, Alice Seckso, and Mary Monti.

Red beans and rice dinner was prepared and served by Knights Lealie Blaise, Al Kingston, Jake and Vincent Morreale.

We thank the patrolmen who assisted in controlling traffic for the parade.

Leading the parade Sunday was our new banner, made by Mrs. Inez Friloux, mother of Knight Ed Friloux. The blue and gold banner, emblazoned with the insignia of the Knights of Columbus, is on display at the Hall.

We remind everyone of the cemetery clean-up day this Sunday and we ask that you please volunteer two hours of your time that morning at St. Mary's cemetery, between the hours of 6:30 a.m. and noon.

Beauvoir to dedicate Tomb of Unknown Soldier

An unveiling of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier of the Confederate States of America will be held in the Beauvoir Cemetery at 3 p.m. Saturday.

The public is invited to attend.

The event is being held in conjunction with the 86th annual convention of the Mississippi Division, Sons of Confederate Veterans, owners of the property since its purchase from Mrs. Jefferson Davis in 1902.

The tomb, emplaced last week, covers the remains of the Confederate Unknown Soldier so designated in 1900 by the four hereditary Confederate organizations: Sons of Confederate Veterans, Military Order of The Stars and Bars, United Daughter of The Confederacy and Children of The Confederacy.

On April 19 of that year a public ceremony of the burial and dedication of the site was held before a large audience and covered by the media.

Principal speaker at the event will be Richard V. Forte of Hattiesburg, who discovered the remains on a battlefield in the campaign for Vicksburg in late 1870.

They were identified to be that of a young Confederate soldier who fell where he was killed in action and never buried.

Events led to the above adoption of the symbolic unknown soldier representing all Confederate soldiers unknown and among the lie in graves from New Mexico to Pennsylvania and in former Union Prison Camps in the North.

Because Beauvoir was the last home of Confederate President Jefferson Davis, the hereditary organizations thought it quite proper to establish the tomb in the Beauvoir Cemetery amid the graves of over 700 Confederate veterans and widows who died in the Beauvoir Soldiers' home between 1903 and 1956.

Although the Confederate President is buried in Hollywood Cemetery, Richmond, Va., the Confederate Capital, the remains of his father, Samuel Emory Davis were reinterred at Beauvoir in 1940 following erosion of the cemetery on Davis Island where he had been buried in 1824, the year Jefferson Davis entered the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Contributions for the tomb came from all over the nation with the principal contributor a local monument company executive.

A crypt to mark the tomb is marble with a bronze seal of the Confederate States of America. In the top designations on the two principal sides, and inscriptions: "Known But To God" at one end and a stanza from Father Abram J. Ryan's poem, "C.S.A." at the other end.

The setting overlooks the veterans and widows graves to the west and a long vista to Beauvoir House and the Gulf of Mexico on the south.

Although privately owned, Beauvoir is open to the public every day but Christmas Day at a small admission fee which accrues to the administration and maintenance of the non-profit institution.

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier is expected to be an added attraction to the nearly 30,000 visitors who annually make their pilgrimage to the last home of the first and only president of the Confederacy.

A&P joins USO in fund drive

USO is turning 40 this year and A&P is helping them celebrate that birthday.

Through a donation program, people across the U.S. will be able to make contributions to USO at A&P check-out counter.

And adding up, it will be Bob Hope.

At each of the more than 15,000 A&P check-out counters, contribution canisters will allow the public to contribute change to support USO's work.

Theme of the campaign revolves around the young service wife who's "baby's sick and whose husband is 10,000 miles away in the Indian Ocean."

The solution as presented in the poster is that "She needs today's USO."

The poster then mentions the various ways USO can help her and her service husband.

The J. Walter Thompson Co. participated in developing the campaign theme and artwork.

USO, a civilian agency receiving no government funds, helps servicemen and women and their families through 145 points of contact worldwide.

USO programs help with family problems, travel and housing confusion, adjusting to a new community or country, and of course in bringing the famous USO base.

NASA recognizes physics professor

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has recognized a University of Southern Mississippi professor for his contributions toward developing a novel instrument which the government may patent.

Dr. Grayson H. Rayborn, professor of physics in the USM School of Science and Technology, was notified by the Langley Research Center in Virginia that the design for his innovative magnetometer, a device to measure magnetic fields, was chosen for publication in a "NASA Tech Brief."

The technical memorandum, excerpted from studies submitted by Dr. Rayborn, will be nationally released to industries and libraries so that other uses for the new technology may be uncovered.

The magnetometer, which is being developed under a NASA-funded program, was created by the USM professor in cooperation with two NASA scientists and another professor from Rensselaer Polytechnical Institute.

The eventual construction of the instrument could facilitate the measurement of rapidly changing magnetic fields in interplanetary space, in the mapping of archeological fields, and in searching for ore deposits.

MAGNETIC FIELD MEASURE.—USM President Aubrey Lucas, right, surveys specifications of a magnetometer for which Professor Grayson Rayborn of the USM College of Science and Technology was presented a design award from NASA. Rayborn's invention may be patented for future use in space and land explorations. NASA has published information on the novel instrument in a technical brief soon to be nationally circulated to government, industrial and public libraries.

For some months now Speech Pathologist Mrs. Penny Bise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schilling of Waveland, Ms. and Speech Pathologists Miss Peggy Cook and Mrs. Chris Clark have been working with Audio Specialist Ed Payne developing a Blissymbolic tape to be used in educational programs and workshops.

As staff members of North Mississippi Retardation Center in Oxford, they are helping individuals at the center who have been unable to communicate verbally.

North Mississippi Retardation Center is one of five mental retardation centers in Mississippi serving a student population of 265 mentally retarded individuals ranging in age from 4 to 65 years.

When the three speech pathologists found 13 students who had no success with either verbal or sign language they decided to introduce Blissymbols.

Blissymbols is an international system of standardized symbols which uses a holistic approach. With this system it is possible to make clauses, phrases and sentences in an orderly fashion.

It is not as complicated as learning to read conventional language when the alphabet, sounds and the ability to blend and put together many concepts is necessary for success. Blissymbols may be used as a springboard to conventional reading, according to Mrs. Bise and it is being used with some stroke victims in Florida.

The Blissymbol tape which Bise, Cook, Clark and Payne are developing includes work with five students from North Mississippi Retardation Center who are successfully using this relatively inexpensive mode of non-verbal communication.

The tape can be used for students, inservice training for new employees and for parents.

Volunteers can be trained in about one hour, afterwards working with a supervisor. The tape will be shown to service organizations as well, in hopes that badly needed equipment in the training of Blissymbols can be purchased.

Already Blissymbols has taken some of the frustration out of the lives of 13 students at North Mississippi Retardation Center. Mrs. Bise, Mrs. Clark and Miss Cook are enlarging the potential of this communication system developed originally by a victim of a Nazi concentration camp who hoped to use it as an international system of communication and peace.

GMH seeking 'Volunteers'

Orientation to become a Volunteer for the summer program at Memorial Hospital at Gulfport will be held Thursday, June 4, from 1 to 4 p.m. in the private dining room of the hospital.

Attendance is required at this orientation in order to participate in the program. The Volunteer program is open to boys and girls, ages 14 through 18 who have maintained a C average or above in school.

Interested young people should call the hospital's public relations office for further information.

Bay High '51 plans reunion

The Bay Senior High School Class of 1951 will hold a reunion Saturday, July 25 at 7 p.m. at the American Legion Club House in Bay St. Louis.

Class members who have not been contacted may phone Margie Schultz, 467-1031 or Joyce Bermond, 467-4264.

UNO offering piano program

A Piano Program for Young People will be conducted June 8 through July 20 in the Performing Arts Center of the University of New Orleans.

The program, which is offered by the UNO Division of Continuing Education through UNO's department of music, is open to new and continuing students. It consists of 13 lessons including both private-partner and group lessons.

Private-partner sessions will meet on Mondays for 40 minutes between 1 and 4 p.m.

Group sessions will meet for 40 minutes on Thursdays from 1 to 3 p.m.

Claudia D'Aquin program director, says that the program's basic theory is that "music is a talent as well as a learned art. Learning to play the piano can be both painless and enjoyable," she says, adding that the competition factor among students is minimized because each person is accepted on an individual level. Ms. D'Aquin can be reached at UNO at 286-6381 for further information.

Community program seeking instructors

The Long Beach Community Education and Recreation Program is seeking persons interested in instructing in a comprehensive summer youth recreational program.

Instructors are needed in arts, crafts, dance, hobby, special interest, piano, guitar and many other activities. The program will begin

June 22 and run through August 14 and will be conducted in the Long Beach Schools.

For further information, interested applicants should immediately contact the Long Beach Center for Community Education 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily at 863-7248.

Tammy Johnson selected for NSTL summer session

Ten area high school students have been selected to participate in NASA's Summer Research Apprenticeship Program at the National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL).

The students, who will begin work June 15 in various scientific and engineering areas, were selected on the basis of their academic background, interest in and potential to benefit from the program and personal interviews.

Those selected to participate in this year's program are Rene Acker, Deborah Payton and Anthony Pickett, all from Picayune High School; Tammy Johnson, Bay St. Louis Senior High School; Michael Bourne,

Elizabeth Vvette Cuevas and Robin Michele Jenkins, Harrison Central High School; Shannon Narcisse, Salmen High School, Slidell, La.; and

Robert Hartung and Robert Lingle, Pascagoula High School.

Patricia Penton, a Picayune teacher, has been selected to serve as faculty coordinator for this year's program.

Dr. Jerry Brown, NSTL's educational officer, will provide program oversight.

A RAINY DAY—A film by Beth Brickell, stars Mariette Hardye as an unhappy TV star who takes a close look at her past when she spends the first afternoon in five years with her mother (played by Collin Wilcox), 9:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 10, on ETV.

PRC fall housing applications due

Resident Halls on the Pearl River College campus in Poplarville are filling up rapidly, according to Miller Hammill, dean of students and housing director.

"Our six air-conditioned dormitories are filling up earlier and earlier each year," said Hammill, "so if a student is planning to live here on the PRC campus during the fall semester an application should be submitted with a $25 deposit immediately."

Hammill said applications will be processed July 1 and room assignments will be made July 15.

Pearl River has three male dormitories and three resident halls for female students. PRC can house 500 students each semester.

"By the time school began last August we had 125 on a waiting list," Hammill said, "and this year will probably be no different."

The advantages of living on campus are numerous. The most obvious ones are that dorms are cheaper and, of course, they're closer to the classrooms. Hammill said research shows that there are also other advantages to living on campus.

Dorm residents have the opportunity to make good friends and to meet students from all backgrounds. There is always someone to talk with and to share with in recreational and social activities.

"Dorm life gives you the opportunity to become involved immediately in campus life," Hammill said.

Campus housing is assigned on a first-come, first-serve basis, so the earlier a student can apply for housing the better his or her chances will be to get into the desired dormitory with the desired roommate.

Applications for housing may be picked up at the Dean of Students Office in the PRC Administration Building from 7:30 a.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. For more information call 601-795-4558.

AFCOTC scholarship applications due

High school students who will be seniors next fall should begin to apply now for Air Force ROTC Officers' Training Corps Four-Year College Scholarships, according to Col. High D. McCracken Jr., Air Force ROTC registrar.

"Students' chances for selection increase by submitting their scholarship applications during the summer and early fall," says McCracken.

Applications for the freshman scholarships beginning in the 1982-83 academic year are now available at Departments of Aerospace Studies at any college or university hosting Air Force ROTC and at U.S. Air Force recruiting stations, or students can write to the Office of Public Affairs, Air Force ROTC, Maxwell AFB, AL 36112.

An Air Force ROTC Four-Year Scholarship provides for payment of full tuition, books and most fees, plus a $100 monthly stipend during each academic year.

The scholarships can be used at about 600 colleges and universities that offer Air Force ROTC.
